A Preview of Finaeon's Complete Indices and Securities for Investment Analysis

Finaeon Series Guide

We are committed to researching and transcribing financial data directly from original sources that was once elusive or prohibitively expensive to obtain. Our proprietary process results in superior collections of data that when combined with your ingenuity, design and software analysis will result in investment conclusions unobtainable from the limitations of traditional electronic feeds.

As a market data manager, it is your goal to bring unique information to your colleagues, as an analyst it is your goal to outperform your competition. Complete, unabridged data is necessary for unlocking new ideas, generating superior presentations, and the key to outperforming the market. Save time, while gaining knowledge beyond measure as you bring these powerful insights to your client base and experience total data transparency through our comprehensive documentation, which includes original source materials, metadata, calculation methodologies, and intriguing facts not commonly known about the data.

We are dedicated to delving into new sources, extending existing series whenever possible, and crafting additional proprietary data series as demanded by our top-tier clients. We are here to provide you with alpha generating content.

At the core of investment strategies lies asset allocation, the art of balancing risk and return. While this practice is fundamental for every investment analyst, Finaeon elevates it to new heights, by seamlessly integrating archived publications with current electronic feeds.

Seize new opportunities in the market, combining this fusion of historical data with modern analytics to uncover hidden connections, cycles and trends which elude the minimal history of traditional feeds that only feature 40 years of content.
